

LCME Privacy Notice

1 Introduction

- 1.1 This notice is for all stakeholders of London College of Music Examinations (LCME) within the University of West London (UWL) to explain the purposes for which we hold information about you (your personal data).
- 1.2 From 25 May 2018, your data will be held in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).
- 1.3 LCME is a department within the University of West London. UWL is registered as a Data Controller with the Information Commissioner. The University Secretary and Chief Compliance Officer is the Data Protection Officer. If you wish to obtain further information about the University's registration, it can be viewed at http://ico.org.uk/what_we_cover/register_of_data_controllers. University registration no. Z4666761.
- 1.4 All data is held and processed in line with the University's Data Protection Policy which can be accessed here. All data which LCME receives from you is kept securely and only used for legitimate purposes in connection with your engagement with LCME.
- 1.5 LCME holds personal data for exam candidates, teachers, schools and parents.

2 How does LCME collect your data?

- 2.1 Through the exam booking process. On the online/paper entry form, you will be asked to confirm various personal details. Further information is collected on candidates as they progress through the exams in terms of their assessment performance.

3 Types & categories of data

- 3.1 LCME will store data relating to your personal details and your contact details. The exam record will be stored for all LCME candidates.

4 Purpose of collection and processing of data

- 4.1 LCME needs to process your personal data to manage your exam process and your engagement with LCME and also to ensure we can deliver the service you have booked.
- 4.2 LCME processes your personal data for the following purposes:
 - Administration and delivery of exam sessions;
 - Provision of online access to LCME via ERIC;
 - Using and analysing your data in order to support candidates to achieve their learning goals
 - Carrying out statutory duties to provide information to external agencies (see 'Disclosures' for further details);
 - Other activities that fall within the pursuit of LCME's legitimate business (including the development and maintenance of the exams record).
- 4.3 LCME also collects special categories of data such as ethnicity. This information is used for monitoring, statistical and research purposes in order to ensure access to LCME services.

4.4 LCME will collect and analyse candidate data to help candidates succeed and achieve their learning goals.

5 Additional notices and guidance/policies

5.1 We also have some additional notices, guidelines and policies with further useful information about the way in which we process your personal data:

UWL's Data Protection Code of Practice: This contains a lot of useful general information on data protection and University practices see <https://www.uwl.ac.uk/about-us/policies-and-regulations>

LCME's website: we use Cookies (that will collect your personal data) on our web pages. Please see our policy on the use of Cookies at <http://lcme.uwl.ac.uk/privacy-and-cookies>

6 Legal basis for processing

6.1 Some of the data we collect from you is required to enable us to administer and deliver your/your candidates' exam entry. The provision of this data is part of the contract the exam booker forms with LCME when an exam entry is made either online or via a paper entry form.

6.2 In some cases, such as provision of special categories of data, we need your consent to process this and you will be informed of the reasons for collecting the data and also request your consent at the time we collect it.

6.3 The basis for the collection and processing of your data is outlined in the table below.

8 Retention periods

8.1 Your data will be retained as set out in UWL's Records Retention Schedule see <https://www.uwl.ac.uk/about-us/policies-and-regulations>

9 Your Rights

9.1 Under the GDPR you have a right to request a copy of your personal data held by the University. The University is obligated to fulfil this request within 20 working days.

9.2 You also have the right to:

- withdraw consent where that is the legal basis of our processing;
- rectify inaccuracies in personal data that we hold about you;
- request to remove some personal data we hold about you (this will not apply to your basic student record or data held as part of the University's legal obligations)
- restrict the processing in certain ways;
- object to certain processing of your personal data by us.

9.3 Please see <https://ico.org.uk/> for further information on the above rights. You may also contact the Data Protection Officer for further information (university.secretary@uwl.ac.uk).

9.4 You have a right to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office about the way in which we process your personal data. Please see <https://ico.org.uk/>.

10 Unwanted communication

10.1 We will from time to time communicate with you by email, post and telephone. If, at any stage, you are concerned about the content of these communications, e.g. unwanted marketing information, or wish to change the method of communication that we use please unsubscribe to general email communications.

10.2 If you are unsuccessful in unsubscribing from our communications and/or remain concerned, please contact our Data Protection Officer.

11 Your Responsibilities

11.1 You have a responsibility to keep your personal details accurate and up to date and should notify LCME of any changes via email: LCM.exams@uwl.ac.uk

11.2 Teachers or exam bookers may have access to personal information about other individuals. LCME stakeholders are expected to treat this in a responsible and professional manner. You have responsibilities under the GDPR for any personal data relating to other people which you may access during your association with LCME. This responsibility is in addition to any obligations arising from professional ethics or codes of conduct. Information obtained in the expectation of a duty of confidence should be treated as confidential and generally not disclosed without the subject's consent. The University will take a serious view of any breach of the GDPR by any of its members, including the consideration of disciplinary action.
